Dear Sir:

Your letter addressed to the Director of the Cabinet of Coins of the Metropolitan Museum, has been referred to us.

The prices placed on the coins of which you have sent casts, are so much above what we consider they are worth that we feel there is little prospect of our being able to come to any agreement. However, I am directed to offer you Sixty Dollars ($60.00) for the gold piece,
No. 15, for which you have named a price of $125.00.

Very truly yours,

Secretary

I truly received your worth estimated letter, but I much regret not to be able to send you the coin offered at the price offered by you. Only to get into connection with your esteemed company, I am ready to make you a lower price: Doll. 100.00

Yours Truly.

Herrn.Dr. Hans Cohn,

Berlin-Friedenau,
Germany.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of October 21st just at hand, and I have brought to the attention of Mr. Newell the fact that the gold piece, No. 15, may now be purchased for $60.00. He has directed me to send to you his cheque for this amount, which is herewith enclosed.

We have found in recent years that personal cheques are more acceptable in Germany than any other form of money. If, however, you have difficulty in cashing this, kindly return it and we will have a foreign draft made out.

Please send this gold piece at your earliest convenience. In the mean time we are considering some of the other coins, but desire to see this one first.

Yours very truly,

Curator.
